

Forum: Queries

Topic: Adam Hodam

Subject: Adam Hodam

Posted by: Rick

Posted on: 2008/5/22 17:34:15

Steve Powers writes:

Hello,

I am researching "Adam Hodam" who was a resident of Roane County in the mid 19thC - he was a preacher and justice of the peace and a cemetery is named after him. In the book, "BY THE BANKS OF THE HOLLY", the author Marie Mollohan sites that there is an unpublished autobiography by Hodam, however she does not site, where this reference exists. I cannot find her contact information, so I am reaching out to the RCHS - do you know of this autobiography?

Any information would be greatly appreciated. Thank you.

Best, Steve

HISTORIC WOODENWARE OF NORTH AMERICA

Steve Powers
S. Scott Powers Antiques
360 Court Street #28
Brooklyn, NY 11231

phone: 718-625-1715 / cell 917-518-0809
website: www.burlsnuff.com
email: steve@burlsnuff.com

Member: Antiques Dealers Assoc. of America (ADA)
New Hampshire Antiques Dealers Association (NHADA)