Shot Himself

"Tobe" Wolfe, living a few miles up Spring Creek accidentally discharged the contents while blowing out a rifle and holding his beet against the trigger, not knowing that gun was loaded killing himself instantly. Mr. Wolfe leaves an aged mother, a wife and a number of small children to survive him. He was a good citizen, and a this sudden end will be a distinct loss to his family.

(Jonathan "Toby" Wolfe passed away May 13, 1910.)
