A Lookups section is now available in our forums.

The lookups page on the old web site had several contacts that are no longer valid, so we have started over with a clean slate. If you have ready access to a Roane County historical or genealogical reference work and would be willing to do reasonable look ups on request to help other researchers, please take a moment to add a message in the forum to let people know.

With this new approach, you can add or remove information at any time as your circumstances change, so we hope it can stay more current than before. As always, if you have any problems or questions, please let me know richard@wvroane.org
